

The Weekly Graphic.

Dr. J. M. SWETNAM, - Proprietor.

SUBSCRIPTION:

Per Annum, in advance $1.50.

Advertising Rates based on actual circulation. The advertiser gets just what he pays for—no more no less.

Advertising Rates:

On three, six or twelve months contracts, one-fifth of one cent per line, on each hand, and one cent per line, on each line, during the insertion. Any number of changes made on payment of the cost of type setting, 10 lines (this type) per line, thus an advertisement occupying three lines down the column, and running 10 weeks, on an average circulation of 100, would cost with one change of matter only $4.00.

Transient and Local:—One month or less, at special rates.

Special Business Notices:—2 cents per line per hundred of circulation.

Local Business Notices:—1 cent per line per hundred of circulation.

Special Notices:—Minimum type, next to advertising columns, 1/2 local rates after first insertion.

Accurate record kept of each week's circulation, and charges graded accordingly.

Newspaper Decisions.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or another's or whether he has subscribed or not—is responsible for the payment.

2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount, whether paper is taken from the office or not.

3. The courts have decided that refusing to take news-papers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncollected, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Religious.

Rev. Saml. Carothers is conducting a protracted meeting eight miles east of this place at the Sabbath Home church.

Rev. F. M. Greene has just closed a series of meetings southeast of town a few miles.

Y. M. C. A.

There will be a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. at the Cumberland Presbyterian church on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. All are cordially invited to be present.

We are highly gratified at the manner in which the people are coming in and subscribing for the Graphic. Come right along; we will give you the full worth of your money and more too.

It is said that he who by the plow would thrive; himself must either hold or drive; but it is equally as necessary to know how and where to buy groceries. Now Osenbaugh supplies the deficiency. Farmers can't miss it by giving him a call. All kinds of produce bought and sold.

A Censor.

The editor of the Democrat in the issue of November 11th, pronounces a terrible anathema upon ministers or teachers who have the hardihood to express themselves upon the subject of a political preference, and even goes so far as to threaten ministers and teachers who dare express such preference, winking up with the following characteristic paragraph:

Now we would suggest that these men confine themselves to their own special and separate callings, and as an editor we promise not to interfere with their vocations if they do not with ours. Ours is to preach democracy and political science—their is to teach school science learning and morality. If you do not keep within your duties and quit this trespass, we will indict you before public opinion.

The whole article is not only stupid but uncalled for. We may infer that this is an attack so far as the teacher is concerned, upon one of our normal professors, one of them, W. P. Nason, having marched in a democratic procession and carried a lamp at one of the rallies during the campaign. But what wrong was there in that? Because a man becomes a teacher or a minister must he give up his manhood, his American citizenship, and become a slave to the dictates of a prejudice born of ignorance and nursed by stupidity? What right has A. H. John, "M. D., author of the Metaphysics of Money, etc.," to set himself as a censor over the actions of men infinitely his superior in every particular.

But he says the preacher is hired and paid to teach morality, and the teacher is paid to instruct the pupils in the branches of general learning, and that if he does anything else he should be dismissed. Granted that the minister is hired to teach morality, and the teacher to train and educate; when they have done the work they have been hired to do, does not the remainder of their time belong to them? and should not they have a right to devote that time to the discharge of any duty which their conscience teach them they should perform? Any other course would restrict a man's liberties and then the minister and teacher would become slaves. No! thank heaven the day has come when a man may act according to the dictates of his own conscience without being forced to hold himself amenable to the nod of any man or set of men, and if a teacher or minister after having faithfully discharged his duties as such wishes to express himself upon a political or any other question of the day, so he does it in an upright manner, no one has a right to question that privilege. And a board of regents or school board who would remove a man for such cause would deserve the condemnation of every honest man. Let this spirit of proscription forever die out. We admire the man who has the courage to say and do what he thinks to be right and we believe every fair minded man feels a greater respect for the man of independence than for a man who is afraid to act for fear of loss of position or of the frowns of some self constituted censor like the present self-conceited head of the democratic party in Adair county.

Mattins

Charley Austin (retired) and wife held an entertaining discussion one morning this week over the family breakfast. They live upstairs over the Graphic office, which accounts for the broken plaster and other evidences of family "jars" visible in the sanctum below. The eloquent and impressive language of the "discussants" finally culminated in more weighty arguments and the marshal was called in to arbitrate on the case. Peace was finally restored and at the present writing everything is quiet on the Potomac.

A Woman's War.

A few days ago a difficulty occurred in Morrow township between a Mrs. Osborne and a Mrs. Fegley. The former becoming so furious that nothing short of a fight would satisfy her; so with a stick she proceeded to appease her anger as well as injury by applying that stick with vigor to the person of her enemy, the sequel being that Mrs. A. was brought before Esquire Link last Wednesday and taxed $100 and costs for her fun.

New Church.

The new Cumberland Presbyterian church, just completed at La Plata, will be dedicated to-morrow by Rev. J. B. Mitchell, of this place, assisted by W. H. Johnson. The Press says the building is paid for, and is a neat and comfortable house of worship, with all the modern arrangements and conveniences.

The Georgians.

Will give one of their unique entertainments at Masonic Hall, on Monday evening the 22nd. Lovers of fun and music combined must go by all means. Secure reserved seats early, as the reputation of this troupe will doubtless call out a big house.

Adair County Bible Society.

The anniversary exercises are to be held in the Christian church, Sabbath, Nov. 28th, inst. at 7 o'clock in the evening. Rev. J. J. Bentley is to preach the anniversary sermon. The different churches of the city are to join in the meeting. Friends from every part of the county are cordially invited.

J. S. Boyd, W. P. Nason, Sec'y. Pres.

Remember

Sprague's Original Genuine Georgia Minstrels will be at Masonic Hall Monday night. First-class and complete in every respect.

Fire!!

Whack! whack! clap!! went the fire-bell Wednesday forenoon at about 11 o'clock and the cry was raised that the Benton (cheese-factory) school house was on fire. A rapid run by the reporter anxious for a no. 1 item developed the disheartening information that it was all over and the fire out. Damage, slight. Cause, the usual one, a defective flue.

Memorials.

There is a desire, says a writer, implanted in all human bosoms to be remembered by the living, when they shall sleep in the dust. It is to this universal feeling of remembrance that the art of the marble cutter pays tribute. The language of the heart is eloquently expressed by the shapely column, the urn, the broken shaft, the carved leaf, the cross and other emblems worked out in pure and snowy marble and erected by loving hearts over the departed. Looking through the marble works of Mr. D. Baird, this week we were struck with the vast advances made in the skill and good taste over what was thought to be good and appropriate a few years since. Here was a large variety of designs, each harmoniously proportioned, skillfully executed and strikingly appropriate. Some of the larger monuments and columns are exquisite works of art and yet come within the means of almost any family desirous of suitably perpetuating the memory of the dead. Mr. Baird has achieved, through the years of experience a perfect knowledge of the business in all its details, and purchasing materials directly from the quarries, employing no canvassers, and giving personal attention to his business is enabled to sell at the very lowest prices, while giving at the same time first-class work to his customers. Call in and see him.

Greencastle Gleanings.

GREENCASTLE, Mo., (Nov. 18, 1880.)

DEAR GRAPHIC.—Business here is generally lively, and the people are really beginning to feel that Greencastle has a future. A number of new houses have gone up during the season, and the town begins to have a new look about it. Produced of all kinds find ready market, at good prices and the farmers are happy. The butchers boast of their nice beef cattle, and Geo. Meeks shipped from here this week some of the finest and largest hogs he has bought this season, one car load averaging nearly four hundred.

Some little excitement was caused in social circles by the wife of an old citizen of four town gathering up her goods and leaving him one day this week, whether the sequel will be a divorce or a reconciliation we cannot say yet conjecture, but we think the latter would be the wiser course under all the circumstances.

But while Greencastle is prospering in everything else she is deficient in one thing, and can never expect to succeed as she should while that deficiency exists. There being neither school house nor school in the town. It is time the friends of education were taking hold of this thing and moving to the front, while those who oppose the levying of a school tax to build a house, or those who throw obstacles in the way of a public school should be made take heed. A town of two hundred inhabitants, without a school or a school house is a disgrace to itself and to those who pretend to manage its affairs.
